dedication

The "Tower" of 1946 is dedicated to President Emeritus Uel W. Lamkin in respect for the prestige that his name has lent the college the past twenty-five years, and to President J. W. Jones with the challenge that in future years he will enhance in value the name already won for Northwest Missouri State Teachers College.

PRESIDENT EMERITUS

Uel W. Lamkin

The College can not and will not stand still. The needs are not the same as they were some twenty-five years ago. Northwest Missouri must be served differently and better. All youth in Northwest Missouri must be given a chance for formal, cultural and vocational education beyond the high school level. The "whole man" must be educated, as well as the "mind of man."

The College necessarily will invade new fields, it will undertake new things, it will "live dangerously," in increasing its worth to the people of the district it serves. President Jones, and his Administration, may seem to be going far afield in directing development during the days ahead. But he, as President, has a somewhat better opportunity to judge ways by which the College can respond to youth's new demands than any other one person can have. He needs the sympathetic support of those now on the campus, and of those who have been, but who are now seeing the institution as former students and as citizens. I am sure he will have full support in the building of a better and more understanding College.

UEL W. LAMKIN,
President Emeritus.

PRESIDENT

J. W. Jones

The function of this college is and shall be to create upon this campus an environment in which the youth who come to us as college students will find here exemplified in the classroom, in the laboratory school, in the shops, in the social life, in the opportunities for work experiences, in contacts with community affairs in recreational activities, in choral, orchestral, dramatic activities, those conditions which when they have experienced them through four years they will emerge as educated citizens and capable teachers who will find the greatest service in helping build and maintain the peace that is now ours.

J. W. JONES,
President.

dean of faculty

Dean M. C. Cunningham

Dr. M. C. Cunningham, chairman of the Education Department and director of the Horace Mann Laboratory School, was elected to succeed Dean Jones as Dean of the faculty. He is the fourth man to hold the office, Deans Jones, J. C. Miller, and George H. Colbert having preceded him.

board of regents

The Board of Regents, appointed by the Governor of the state, work in co-operation with the president, to give supervision to college affairs. This year the men of the board had the responsibility of choosing a man for college president who was qualified to lead this institution through the present college reconversion.

personnel directors

The Personnel Directors are new to their offices here, and they will have problems these days that would be new even to those long in office. We realize, that in future days there is certain to be some personal conflicts in the lives of students, and that only personal vision on the part of students and directors alike can keep the difficulties of each successive day down to a minimum.

The officers extend their services and the students partake of them. At some time each and every office is called upon for an exhibition of its efficiencies. The functions of the campus days go on and tomorrow is in the planning with the consideration and co-operation from the administration.

Because as a group, they are largest in number, they often get the least in the way of praise. We join with President Emeritus Lamkin in the applaudable statement he has made—"If you want me to say something, say the faculty has made the college." Let us say that there shall never exist a time to come when the faculty shall not make it.

basketball season

Because of the manpower shortage at the college at the beginning of the Fall Quarter, no attempt was made to organize a football squad. Coach Ryland Milner was still with a special service detachment of the army, which further stymied athletic plans at the college. But despite the gloomy prospects during the fall, business picked up along athletic lines when Coaches Milner and Wilbur Stalcup returned at the outset of the Winter term.

Veteran cagers Harold Hutcheson, Errol Myers, Vince and Norbert Meyer, Harold Glavin, and Paul Wilson returned to bolster basketball hopes of the Bearcats.

Newcomers to the Bearcat cage team also gave Maryville fans added confidence as Stalcup's men won their opening game from Benson of Kansas City by a 46-37 score.

Vince Meyer came along well as the season progressed to give the 'Cats added balance where they needed it on rebounds and control of the ball. And so it was with Hutcheson scoring ten points and Vince nine that the Maryville five rang up a victory over Fort Leavenworth team 44-30.

In a return game with the Benson team, the Bearcats won another game, 40-29, in a rough and tumble contest.

Coach Stalcup had difficulty in grooming his players in the finer point of the game since so many of them were rusty from 3 or 4 years absence from organized athletic activity. However, they came along well after downing Rolla 53-27 in their first conference game on January 10, and going to Cape Girardeau to nudge a strong Indian squad 47-46.

After this promising start the Bearcats fell into a slump and lost to Springfield 34-41 and three days later, on January 21, Rockhurst turned them back, 36-34.

Kirksville provided a break for the Maryville team as the Northeast Missouri team, off to a weak post war start, fell twice before the Bearcats: on January 25, 40-26; and on January 29, 41-32.

One of the most closely contested games of the season was played on February 1 when Tom Scott's Warrensburg Mules visited the Bearcat court and won in the last seconds, 37-35. Allan Henningsen, lanky freshman center from Atlantic, Iowa, kept the Maryville hopes high by pouring in five fielders after Hutcheson went out of the game, due in injuries.

Paul "Georgia" Wilson, Blaine Steck, Errol Myers, Gale Donahue, and veteran cager Andrews gradually regained their efficient playing styles and the Bearcats made the defeat at the hands of Warrensburg their last of the season as they rolled over Rockhurst on February 8 by a 32-24 margin, trounced Cape Girardeau on February 15 by a 45-33 score, and avenged an early season loss with a 49-39 win.

After the victory over Springfield on February 18, Stalcup found his team in a tie for the conference lead. Warrensburg, after setting the early season pace, suffered defeats at the hands of Rolla and Cape Girardeau and was put in a precarious position as the Bearcats journeyed to repay the Mule visit on February 19. Many Maryville fans traveled to see the game that was really the championship game of the M. I. A. A. Harold Hutcheson scored 16 points and Vince Meyer rang up 12 markers to lead their teammates to a 43-33 win.

All that remained for the Bearcats to do was to defeat Rolla in the closing game of the season, which they did, 40-33.

It was an unusual season in several ways. Stalcup returned to his Alma Mater to pilot the cage team through another successful campaign, and then afterwards, promptly left for greater fields of athletic direction as he accepted a bid from Missouri University to coach the Tiger basketball squad in the year to come.

Another queer aspect of the season was the fact that no official M. I. A. A. champion was recognized because of a waiving of eligibility rules until September of 1946, and also because no official conference competition was arranged. It was through obvious misunderstanding of facts that Artie Eilers of St. Louis, selected to appoint officials for M. I. A. A. games, declared Harold Hutcheson to be ineligible, therefore causing Maryville to forfeit all games in which he participated. This ruling was not generally recognized, however, and certainly no glory was taken from the fighting Bearcats by this action.

High point man on the Maryville squad was Hutcheson, who amassed 152 points in 12 games, and Vince Meyer, who tallied 113 points in 13 games. Al Henningsen captured third place honors with 64 points and Blaine Steck scored 62 points. These figures do not include the last game.

Our Student Senate represents the student body before the faculty and functions in harmony with the Student Government Association in the regulation of student activities.

The president and the vice-president of the Senate are chosen by the student body from the senior class. Four members chosen from each the junior and sophomore classes, and two members chosen from the freshman class, complete the membership.

As a representative body, the Senate must be adequately advised as to school affairs and must use its powers as best will promote the acceptance of conscientious responsibilities among members of the entire student body.

The Student Social Committee promotes and plans social functions on the campus not sponsored by individual organizations. It is always glad to have suggestions from the students and faculty members.

The members of Residence Hall Council are elected by the residents to govern the Hall and to plan for social events. During the Fall quarter a tea was given in honor of the new faculty women. At Christmas the traditional Hanging of the Greens was presented followed by Open House. For the residents only, two "after ten-thirty" p. j. parties and one "little kid" party provided amusement during the year.

A carnival ushered in the 1945-46 rushing season of Tri-Sigma. Later came the formal party and the program at the dance following the Warrensburg game, featuring "All I owe Iowa," plaid skirts, jeans, and Wren, plus "She's from Missouri," and a group of be-sweatered chorus girls. Came spring, came also the spring formal and the Founders' Day Banquet, ending a successful year for Sigma Sigma Sigma.

phi sigma epsilon

PHI SIGMA EPSILON has returned to the civilian status. The Navy separated its associations with the fraternity when it left the campus in October. During the winter quarter the following veterans returned as civilians and are again active in the chapter: Lewis Cameron, Dean Hoshor, Bill Vest, Robert Taylor, Lawrence Weeda, and Donald Weeda. The spring quarter found still more veterans in our midst: Fred Davidson, Turner Tyson, A. Anderson, Harold Hall, J. Rush, J. Roberts, and C. Parks.

With the departure of the Navy the fraternity had remaining in school three active members. This was the lowest ebb it reached during the uncertain conditions caused by the war. The fraternity is deeply indebted to those whose efforts kept its existence on the campus. With the fraternity again in full swing its members are looking forward to a busy and active organization this coming year.

The fraternity has enjoyed many social functions this year, namely, the formal and informal dances, the smokers, and the Greek Letter formal. The spring formal in May was the last event on the Phi-Sig social calendar.

The purpose of the Pan-Hellenic Council is to promote good will and co-operation between the two sororities on the campus. The council is made up of members from each sorority with Miss Locke acting as sponsor. They have charge of fall rush season and the enforcement of Pan-Hellenic rules.

home economics club

The Home Economics Club was established on this campus in the spring of 1945, under the leadership of Miss June Cozine. The following officers were elected for the succeeding year: president, Betty Chandler; vice-president, Sarah Espey; secretary, Sue Osborn; treasurer, Lois Johnson; social chairman, Janet Wilson, historian, Marian Murphy; co-chairmen, Barbara Anderson, and Norma Smith.

Sarah Espey is the state secretary of the Home Economics Club. The sponsor this year has been Miss Thelma Walker.

The club gave a tea in honor of its new members and also had several informal parties throughout the year.

As its major project the club made suggestions for the redecoration and furnishing of the boys' quadrangle. Food was sold at the dormitory as part of a plan for money-making.

The Beta Chapter of Pi Omega Pi, a National Honorary Fraternity for prospective commercial teachers, was established on the campus in 1924. Members must have taken fifteen hours of Commerce and Education courses and must have maintained a superior scholastic average.

During this year the members of Pi Omega Pi have enjoyed a variety of activities. In addition to their regular bi-monthly programs, they sponsored a showing of some educational films and a social party for all commercial majors. Its members also assisted the faculty in administering the annual spring contests for high school students.

northwest missourian staff

To give you the story of what has happened on our campus and outside, as concerns our own students and graduates; to give us accounts of important current events in our school; and still more important, to announce those events to come—these are the services rendered by Miss Mattie Dykes and her Missourian staff. Our college paper, like our Tower, has known some limitations imposed by war, but this year it's back, full-size, and the day may not be too far off when we shall see the paper out as a weekly.

The Tower staff, standing between what has been and what will be, publishes the 1946 Tower in the hope that it serves to take the publication a year toward the larger annual that appeared previous to the war days. future teachers of america

Future Teachers of America, the John Dewey chapter, existing as a branch of the National Education Association, is a professional secondary teachers organization which has as its purpose the acquainting of future teachers with current educational issues, state and national, and the instilling in the minds of its members the great duties belonging to the teacher and her work in the future.

Other officers were Lola Klopp, secretary; Margery Burger, treasurer; and Janice Marquis, program and social chairman.

The theme for the year, "Parent, Teacher, and Child Relations," was introduced by Janice Marquis. At each meeting a different phase of the theme was developed.

One social event was held in each quarter; an early breakfast at Roadside Park in the fall quarter, a Christmas party in the winter quarter, and a picnic to which the Short Course students with an Intermediate major were invited in the spring quarter.

Mr. C. F. Gray graduated from the college in the summer of 1936, and obtained his Ph. D. from Iowa State College at Ames in 1942. Immediately thereafter he started work on the atomic bomb project at Iowa State.

In the summer of 1942, Dr. Frank Spedding, project and research director at Iowa State College, Dr. Harley A. Wilhelm, associate project director in charge of metallurgy division, Dr. C. F. Gray, chemist in charge of the section on metal casting, and Dr. W. H. Keller, chemist in charge of the section on chemical metallurgy, invented the process used in the production of the metallic uranium for which the Army and Navy awarded chemistry annex 1 and 2 the Army-Navy "E."

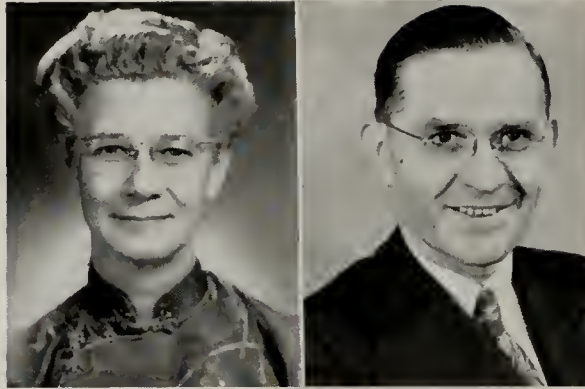

While the various manufacturers were getting ready to produce uranium, by the Iowa State process, these men and their crews continued to produce metal as rapidly as possible so that further atomic energy research could be continued during this period. The project at Ames produced the metal so rapidly that the workers there were able to furnish about one-third of the metal used in the first experiments at Chicago, where the first self-sustained atomic energy machine was constructed.

'E' Award to Go To Dr. C. F. Gray

Miss Lois Langland graduated from S. T. C. in the spring of 1941, and following graduation taught English in the high school at Corning, Iowa, for four years. There she acted as sponsor of the high school newspaper, organized and sponsored a creative writing club, did work in choral reading, and counseled high school girls. In the community she was active in clubs, church work, and in the Adams County Council of Teachers.

In the summer of 1945 Miss Langland returned to Maryville as Acting Dean of Women. In the fall of 1945 she entered Smith College, where she is now working towards the Master's Degree in English literature.

religious emphasis week

The week of February 4-7, this year, was given to the annual "Religious Emphasis Week." The theme of the entire series of programs was "A Christian's Opportunity in Our Time." Speakers on the campus during this week were Dr. A. G. Williamson, former president of Oklahoma City University and now pastor of the Francis Street Methodist Church in St. Joseph; Dr. A. S. Baillie, pastor of Compton Heights Christian Church in St. Louis; Rev. Elbert Cole of the staff of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Minneapolis; and Miss Elizabeth Turner, secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement.

february lectures

Miss Ruth Nelson, of the college music faculty, presented the first of the February lectures on the afternoon of January 27. The lecture was entitled "Heart, Soul, and Senses."

Dr. John Harr, of the department of Social Science, discussed "The Conflict Between Sectionalism, Unionism, and Southern Nationalism in the Ante-Bellum Southwest, 1815-1861" in the second of the February lectures on February 3.

The lecture of Dr. Anna M. Painter, on February 10, had as its title "Modern Drama: a Platform and a Passion," and was a study of the development of U. S. S. R. drama during the period between two wars.

Dr. George E. Mylonas of Washington University, St. Louis, an authority on art and archeology, was the speaker for the fourth and closing number of the lecture series. His presentation dealt with "Crete in the Dawn of History."

The Northwest Missouri State Teachers College Studies, containing the February lectures, will be published some time this spring. It is distributed to university and college libraries all over the United States.

kansas city philharmonic orchestra

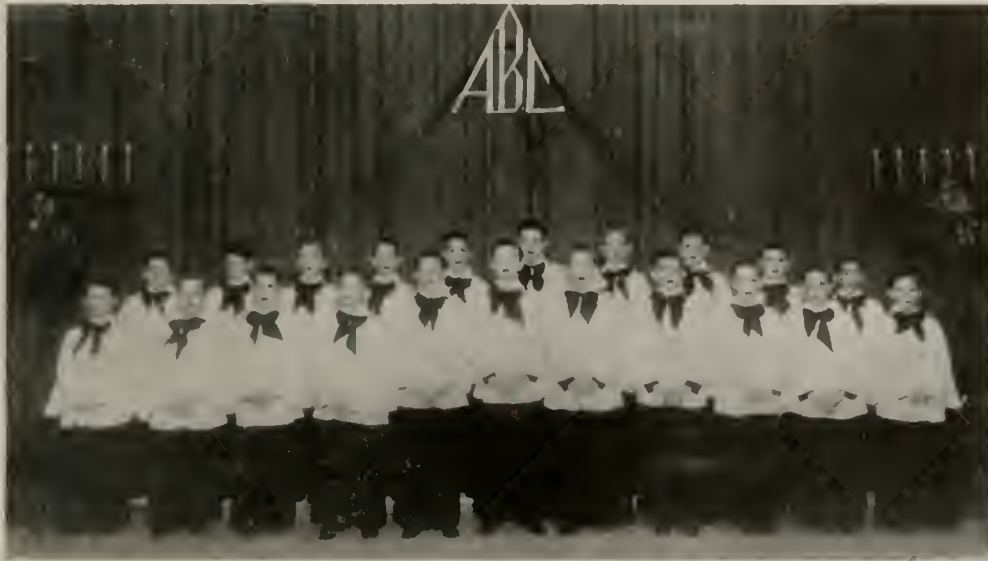

November 13, the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra, with Efrem Kurtz as conductor, played a concert in the auditorium of the Administration Building as the first of the major entertainments of the year. apollo boys' choir

The Apollo Boys' Choir of Dallas, Texas, appeared in our auditorium for the major entertainment in May. This nonsectarian organization was founded for educational purposes and has no means of support except the unsolicited donations of its friends and concert proceeds. Its twenty-one members range in age from nine to fourteen years. In the past five years the choir has given concerts in thirty-eight different states, has sung over the combined facilities of the Columbia and National broadcasting networks, and was officially presented to America at its New York debut in Town Hall in 1940.

The life of Christopher Columbus was portrayed in a dance-play given by Edwin Strawbridge and his dancers in the college auditorium on the evening of March 20.

roll of honor northwest missouri state teachers college world war II

From the temporary honor roll for service people begun several years ago has grown the permanent honor roll which now has its place on the wall of the second corridor. As a culmination of a project begun early last fall and financed by the Student Senate, the new honor roll pays tribute to 966 men and women in the armed services from the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. Twenty-four gold stars indicate those men who gave their lives in this war. Approximately one hundred names are yet to be added to the board.

the dead of world war II in memoriam

The college has lost these men from its halls and from its records of those men who have graduated and gone beyond its halls. Remembering that they have made the supreme sacrifice, in our hearts we honor them, and with eyes and minds toward the future, pray that they, and others who fought with them, may be the last to have to engage in war.
